HISTORY

---

Our business started off in Kimberley as a family business named Williams Construction.

The business was established in 1980 and specialised in paint contracting.

The business consisted of our father, Vic and brothers , Mark, Gary, Wayne, Ross and Glenn Williams.

As we became more succesful, we diversified and started building as well and have completed a wide variety of projects.

In 1999, after relocating from Kimberley, Mark started a construction company in East London named Willcon Construction.

In 2006 Mark sold Willcon Construction to brothers Gary, Ross and Glenn Williams in order to pursue another business interest.

Mark then started an estate agency and operated that until January 2009. During this period he was only involved in the construction side in an advisory capacity.

In 2009 it was decided that Ross and Glenn would continue operating Willcon Construction and Mark and Gary would join forces and operate a new construction business operating under the name of Pinnacle Construction.
