

TRADE SIGNALS

International FX Trading's innovative Trade Signal Platform is a first of its kind.

Our system is designed to provide simplicity in sharing trading signals amongst our members across the globe. From a single entry, members are able to view and follow the signal provided accordingly without the need to use any external communication device. Our signals entered will follow the real time price and will update every minute.

You will "Earn While You Learn" with International FX Trading, as most signals include a detailed technical analysis for educational purposes.

International FX Trading trade all majors and cross pairs. Signals are separated into three categories: Day Trades, Swing Trades and Position Trades and we generate trade signals on institutional level recognition.

Signals are generated any time of day in order to best trade the 24 global Forex market.

Signal delivery is easily accessible with a customised signal platform, linked to LIVE Rates from Interbank, as well as an automated email facility. This service is quite good for the beginner, intermediate or more experienced trader to make consistent profit.

Members receive an email containing a detailed chart analysis and the three all-important numbers you want to enter into any FOREX trading platform are given to you in a clear, easy-to-understand manner: entry limit order, exit limit order, and stop loss. All of the trades are limit orders and members have sufficient time to enter their orders.

It is likely that no trade signal will be generated on some days or that a trade signal will not be triggered if their predetermined entry price is not reached. Our trade history is automatically updated, giving our free and elite members an authentic, transparent record of our performance.
