Company Overview

Delivering Sustainable
Technology Solutions for the Modern Small to Medium Enterprise

iTree Solutions understands the needs of a growing business.

We understand that IT infrastructure is often seen as a grudge purchase and can be misinterpreted as an expense rather than the revenue generating enabler you need it to be. This is why iTree Solutions exists, to help your business make informed decisions about technology and assist with achieving the most out of what you have already invested.

WE CAN HELP YOU IN THE FOLLOWING AREAS:

- Decreasing Operating Expenditure
- Improving Business Agility
- Ensuring IT Scalability
- Leading Edge Technology

Established in 2013, iTree Solutions has become a trusted advisor and solutions provider for small to medium companies across the spectrum. Our current client portfolio includes a number of courier companies, manufacturing, healthcare, financial services, brand activation and mobility. Regardless of your industry, we are able to provide best in class solutions.

We enable clients to utilize their existing investment to the best of its ability, identify areas where cost savings can be achieved and implement leading edge technologies that not only assist with business growth but also enable organizations to make quick decisions that ensure the current and future needs of the company can be met and exceeded.

The Business Need

As your business grows, the needs of your customers, both internal and external, change and the pressure on you as a company to deliver is multiplied. In the ever evolving IT landscape, there are always new ways of doing things and improving processes which can be passed on to your customers. The challenge is knowing where to start and understanding which of these technologies fits best with your current infrastructure and won't result in degradation or downtime of any kind to implement. Phenomenon like the "Always-On" worker and BYOD (Bring Your Own Device) introduce new complexities and security risks which in turn typically exaggerate and over complicate the management of users and devices. Correctly implemented and managed appropriately, these technologies are catalysts for the growth of your business.

iTree Solutions uses the experience and expertise gained from years of assisting SME's to solve the challenges associated with new trends in technology, by delivering specialist, bespoke solutions that allow our clients to:

- Dramatically cut the operational costs associated with delivering critical services to business by leveraging technologies like Cloud, Office 365 and VoIP and integrating them with existing infrastructure
- Gain access to decades' worth of experience in managing IT environments by outsourcing their entire IT operation to iTree Solutions, removing the concerns of day to day management of IT infrastructure and users
- Expand their IT infrastructure rapidly or as the business requires without having a negative impact on production systems
- Sweat their existing assets for much longer by introducing disruptive technologies that assist in getting the most out of the initial investment that was made
- Gain a competitive edge by taking advantage of the latest in user productivity solutions

THE TEAM

Without the backing of an experienced team, whoever we partner with is meaningless. iTree Solutions has collectively amassed over 20 years' worth of experience in the IT industry. Steven Nel and Tyrone Leslie head up the executive team.

Steven Nel - Managing Director

Having started his journey in Information Technology way back in 2001, Steven has amassed 15 years of experience across various aspects of the industry. His experience in roles ranging from Helpdesk Operator to National IT Manager has exposed him to all aspects of IT and how this relates to business needs. His strong belief that in an ever changing ecosystem, the ability to evolve as an individual and stay in touch with the latest trends and innovations, regardless of your speciality is of paramount importance. In line with this belief, he maintains a high level of awareness to ensure that he can always offer clients, be they internal or external, the soundest advice possible when it comes to choosing a solution.

Tyrone Leslie - Operations Director

Heading up our Operations and Services Division, Tyrone's career spans a decade of managing multinational IT environments. His commitment to customer service excellence is unparalleled which drives and maintains the impressive service iTree Solutions offers to their clients. His technical knowledge and passion disseminates through the entire company and ensures that regardless of the size of a client, each receives the individual, tailor-made service and support they expect from a trusted advisor.

Tyrone and Steven head up a team of passionate engineers and system architects just itching to get their hands on your infrastructure. Offering personalized service to each individual customer is key to our success and is a core focus for the team and our customer centric approach to solutions architecture enables us to be vendor agnostic and the opportunity to offer the solution that is right for you!
