

ABOUT BLUESTEAM

All about the history of BlueSteam and how it started.

BlueSteam is a privately owned South African based business started in 2005 to bring affordable online services exclusively for South African citizens and designed for the success of your web enterprise. BlueSteam started as a simple website hosting company but has expanded to providing website design and building services as well as remote desktop support. Whether you already run a growing web business, need remote support or merely want to set up your first website, we have the solution for you.

BlueSteam's services ensure that your site provides a dependable presence to the public with your business information available to them 24 hours a day, seven days a week. In order for your business to grow, your site needs to meet or exceed current industry standards, with enough scalability to grow for the future.

BlueSteam Web Hosting's services are extremely competitively priced, extremely reliable and always backed up by courteous and competent technical support available 24 hours a day.

Nothing says it better than to hear what our clients have to say...
