As A Music Production Company we strive to maintain our high standard storytelling and cinematic execution through music videos ensuring that there is always a key central narrative that runs through the video from beginning to end; as oppose a lot of generic music videos that are produced without any creative flare which usually solely focuses on the artist performing into camera in different locations and settings.

Affordable Music Video Production Company

With most music video production companies, their budgets are set in stone and often times this can break the bank. With Cosmic Entertainment Music Video Producers, we are able to accommodate your budget and reverse engineer the concept and creative in order to ensure a high-end affordable music video, without compromising on the international production value.

The Process of Producing a Music Video

The artist sends us their single and our creative team listens to it and assesses the style, sound, genre and general feel of the track and thereafter compiles different potential concepts for the music video. Our music video producers liaise directly with the artist to assess their desired spend and thereafter ensure that any creative development and concepts conceived by our creative team, fit within your budget. If the artist already has a concept, we then dissect that and flesh it out into more detail following our unique quoting system based on your requirements line itemed with all the different sectors of production, and directing from locations to wardrobe, to props, set dressing and / or animation and the models.
